OUTBREAK IN SELANGOR GAOL.

Seven Prisoners Overpower Guard and Escape.

The Malay Mail reports that the Selangor police offer a reward of $500 in connection with information concerning four Chinese who recently escaped from the gaol at Pudoh, Kuala Lumpur, and who are still at large. Seven men broke out after assaulting the Bengali guard at the gate. He was attacked from behind and quickly overpowered. Two men hung on his rifle behind him, rendering him powerless to give an alarm by firing a shot. The others meanwhile opened the gate, and then, throwing the Bengali down, they all escaped.

Once released the alarm was given and the pursuit of the men resulted in three being captured; four are still at large.
