SELANGOR NEWS.

Malay Mail.

Later information about the Pahang Road robbery and murder shews that the onslaught took place at night, when the treasure party were asleep in a house. Robbers to the number of some ten or twelve shot down two of the three Malay constables. The third constable shot one of the robbers. Some transport coolies then fell upon the robbers who killed one of them. The policeman meanwhile had shot two more robbers. Upon this, the robbers cleared off. Two of them have been caught.

The letter of the two cadets in the Times and other papers is bearing fruit. Several successful candidates in the last examination have intimated their disinclination to accept the cadetships to which their success entitled them.

The Bachelors' Dinner came off at the Kuala Lumpur Rest House on the 31st December. Forty-one guests sat down in a large room decorated with plants and foliage. The dinner is described as being a great success.

The Selangor sky meeting is said to have been well managed and well attended. Cool weather and gentlemen riders were the attractions, in addition to the seven events run for.

It is now 1899, and we are all still in ignorance of the Resident-General's re-
